HIGH ALTITUDE SHOT

The President has done an outstanding job as far as public relations; is concerned preliminary to beginning the series of explosions. Previously, our nuclear tests have brought down the indignation and condemnation of many leaders of the so-called neutral nations.

As a result of the Russian test last fall and the President's reluctance to test if there was any possibility of reaching some agreement with the Russians, it has been made crystal clear to the world that the Russians are responsible for this series of nuclear explosions.

In this series of nuclear test, the United State (at this time) has exploded two megaton bombs at a high altitude. While all the pres releases indicate that the high altitude tests are being conducted for scientific, rather than military reasons, it is also true that these tests have very significant military objectives.

For instance, it is known that an explosion at high altitude sends out many particles and would temporarily disrupt radio communications and radar screens. Consequently, it may be possible for an enemy to explode a high altitude weapon to blind radar screens making it possible for other missiles to advance on targets without detection.

ABOUT YOUR HOME

If you live in a section of the country where the humidity is high you are no doubt troubled with mold. This can be a very serious problem. However, there are a number of tricks whereby you can beat this.

The first and easiest, also the most expensive, is to air - condition your home. This adds to personal comfort, and if there is a hay fever sufferer in the family it adds to health. The cost is prohibitive for most of us.

There are several anti - mold chemicals on the market. Some are spray - type, some you apply with a brush or cloth, and others you open and leave sitting about your home

A thorough sunning several times during the summer will benefit your shoes, bags luggage and clothes It is trouble to do this, but it is very effective. Sunning will cut down on molding and on the musty ordor that accompanies it.

I save an electric light on in your closets during the height of the mold season. Light - either electric light or sunlight — is detrimental to the formation of mold.

Louvered doors on closets are a big help. The louvers allow ventilation at all times. This will also help to keep down the formation of mold.

GRAND VISITATION O. E. S.

An exuberant crowd of O. E. S. officers and members packed the Masonic Hall in Appomattox Thursday evening to welcome Mrs. Inez Parker Meeking, Worthy Grand Matron of Virginia, Grand Chapter.

Accompanying Mrs. Meekins on this early visit of her itinerary were Mrs. Ruth B. Haskett of Norfolk, Grand Marshall, and Mrs. Mary T. Yates of Roanoke, Associate Grand Conductress.

Following a banquet at the Parkway Restaurant, the meeting was held with Chapter No. 58 of Pamplin and Appomattox No. 10 participating. Mrs. Laura Campbell of Pamplin and Mrs. Jessie Carwile of Appomattox were the presiding Worthy Matrons.

Among the other distinguished guests, representing fourteen chapters were Mr. Julian D. White of Wytheville, Past Grand Patron, Mrs. Veva O. Spain of Lynchburg, Louise N. Bryant, Past Grand Matron, as well as a large number of subordinate officers.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

Looking smart while keeping cool is art demanding knowhow.

Wear always keep a very simple hairdo, the shorter the better. Try to avoid wisps and straggling ends.

Wash, shampoo and mousse your scalp as often as possible. Protect your hair from over exposure to the sun. The hair can be terribly damaged by too much sun, a fact that is too often over looked because any pain.

Wear only an makeup. Never over do eye glamor or sun tan form a jar. Wear your sunglasses outdoors, but indoors keep your glasses polished lenses clean and free from scratches.

Wear only English cologne in favor of heavy mushy perfums.

Choose your summer clothes for coolness as well as becomingness.

Shorts are cool and comfortable and attractive on the younger women with a slim figure. If you are past the age for shorts, or too plump, don't wear them on the streets. Pants of any kind call attention to figure problems that might otherwise go unnoticed.

Cotton is a cool fabric that washes easily. Choose undergarments of cotton for hot summer days. Stockings are uncomfortable but sometimes necessary. Often you can get away with a light coat of leg-makeup. Always wear little cotton or nylon footies to protect your feet and your shoes when wearing pumps

Avoid rushing about whenever possible. Plan to do your shopping early in the morning or during the coolest possible part of the afternoon. It' is actually dangerous for a person with a known heart condition to become overheated.

ncement exercises for the mentary School were held on June 5, at 7:30 o'clock.

Those completing the seventh grade were:

Delores Reynolds, Barbara Bryant, Allan Webb, Buck Wootan, Jimmy Franklin, and Albert Carter.

At the last S. C. A. meeting, a health program was presented by the 5-pointers. Delores Reynolds was crowned Queen and Bill Watson was crowned King.

Health certificates were given to Jimmy Franklin, George Joly, David Drinkard, Russell Thomas, Rosiland Reynolds, Linda O'Brien, Chris Garrett, Josie Meggerson, Kathy Ferguson, Cheryl Joly, Brenda Almond, Donald Drinkard, Alton Lucado, Kenneth Franklin, and Roger O'Brien.

On June 4, the primary children, with their teacher, Mrs. Iva Covington and nine patrons enjoyed a train ride from Appomattox to Lynchburg. In addition to the excitement of a train ride, was the thrill of the children at sharing a coach with their favorite Roanoke TV star, "Little Pete," who entertained them thoroughly. The trip was climaxed with a picnic at Miller Park. This group of children had recently been entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Drinkard at their home with pony rides and refreshments.

The 4th and 5th grades and their teacher, Mrs. Virginia Gunter enjoyed a picnic on June 6, given by their room mothers, Mrs. Irene Kanipe and Mrs. Mary Ferguson. The occasion for the outing was to honor, the Kanipe twins, Donald and Ronald on their tenth birthday, and permit them to share the fun with their classmates. This group, under the supervision of their teacher, and Mr. Jimmy Drinkard, were entertained at a bowling party recently.

Mr. Butler and his 6th und 7th grades made a flying trip to Charlottesville on Wed., June 6. There they enjoyed a guided tour of Thos. Jefferson's famous home, "Monticello."

On the last day of school awards were made for perfect attendances to Delores Reynolds, David Drinkard, Linda O'Brien, Herman England, George Joly, Wanda Ferguson, Ronald Kanipe, and Donald Drinkard. Awards in spelling were made to George Joly and Rosland Reynolds.

Know This Sign

FALLOUT SHELTER

It could save your life

Yellow and black community fallout shelter signs such as this are appearing in parts of the nation and should be up in most communities by the end of 1962.

They identify fallout shelter spaces for 50 or more persons found in cities and towns across the country as a result of the national civil defense program now directed by the Department of Defense. The shelters are or will be stocked with a 14-day supply of food, water and other necessities.

The design and colors were chosen to be easily seen and identified by persons at a distance.
